

Owl Collage

Students reviewed the word "collage" and what it meant before beginning their talk about their new project, creating an Owl Collage. They learned the word "nocturnal" and discussed why we might make our collages on a black paper background. We then drew the outline of an owl and began filling in the area with torn paper to create the owl's body. After we completed that we added details like the eyes and beak. This project gave the students more practice with ripping, cutting, and gluing.
